Volume 214 – January 2019

Hi everyone! All my best laid plans last year have kept me from getting out and going fishing as much as I wanted to and I've had to cancel a couple of trips because of work and a personal matter. But I'm resolving to change that this year. My long awaited steelhead trip will be back on in November as well as the Owens River trip that had to be rescheduled.

I hope that you took advantage of the decent weather we have had over Christmas and the New Year. January looks to be a big weather month, especially with the storms moving in this week. Although I have been busy with work, I'm still going to get out to Pyramid to enjoy some much needed fishing on the 19th Fishout. Dave will be following up on the particulars.

I'm looking forward to having some fun this year with fellow club members and hope to see you all out there. See you at our next regular club meeting on February 12th at the Carson City Sheriff's Office.
